917 Mar 26, 2020 The main difference to other receivers with the same chipset is the lack of any GPS antenna inside. For the purposes of GPS this is not a problem since it gets data from satellites orbiting far away. This is why, in our case, the receiver reports GPS info without interference and with a rather good signal strength. A: Q: What is the difference between a GPS and the other ADS systems? P: BISS does not rely on GPS; it uses something called a Square Wave Embedded Signal. GPS is a satellite navigation system that, with an unobstructed line of sight to four or more GPS satellites, can identify the position of an object on the surface of the earth to within a few meters. Navman is an example of a GPS-only system. But once you've read the script, you have an opportunity to offer comments, changes, and/or suggested rewrites to the screenplay. You submit your first changes through the online authoring tool, FictionMngr. While some writers prefer to go it alone, others may consider collaborators for revisions. Not all changes are worthy of consideration or acceptance, and so it is an advantage to build a relationship with other readers in order to improve your writing. Once the script is reviewed and accepted, the author has 30 days to provide the final changes. (This time period can be extended if necessary by the script's agent.) Once the script is accepted, the author has 10 days to give final approval for the script. (The author's page at FictionMngr has instructions for other steps such as formatting and distribution.) What's next? Hands on the keyboard as opportunities come along. Featured Success Story My name is David Hargreaves and I am the author of "A Journey Through the Suburbs", a script based on my humorous experiences with relationships and family drama in the suburbs of London. My script has been read and in the last seven months I have had many offers to co-write. With the help of Michelle Scott, I have completed an impressive 6-month project and have already created a company with an option to sell the rights to the screenplay to various development groups. In May 2007 I will be joining part time with a leading Hollywood script-writing agency as an associate. The US remains the biggest oil buyer in the world, having bought close to 84 million
